

VESDA HLI VHX-0200 & VHX-1200 End of Life (EOL) Notice – China

May 2026

Overview

As part of our on-going portfolio management and streamlining our offerings we are discontinuing the VHX-0200 and VHX-1200 product lines in China. To ensure continuity and long-term support for our customers, we are transitioning to the next generation of VESDA-E Remote Accessories.

The next generation accessories have seen high adoption rates in fire detection applications in many other regions. Their performance and reliability have been proven through extensive field use, giving customers confidence in a more cost-effective networking and monitoring solution that is both tried and tested.

For further details, please refer to the VESDA HLI Sliding Windows Replacement Procedure (Doc. No. 38420).
